Women Deserve To Live Without Fear

Last week, in observance of International Men's Day, we gave a special shout-out to the men who are making positive contributions to society, while highlighting the importance of supporting our boys as they prepare to become the men of tomorrow.

This week, however, we take a more serious turn as we give attention to the annual 25th November observance of the International Day for the Elimination of Violence against Women, with the 2026 call to "Ensure justice, protect survivors, end impunity."

Across the globe, throughout our Caribbean region and even in our own neck of the woods here in St. Kitts and Nevis, we have heard of incidents, deadly and otherwise, involving violence against women and girls.

Even as some readers go through this editorial, recent incidents and some infamous cases may come to mind. The faces of victims, the horrific stories surrounding their experiences and the unimaginable pain felt by their families are difficult to forget.

What a world we live in where women and girls often have to live in fear of becoming victims of such violence.

As we reflect on our International Men's Day message, let us recognise that part of preparing our boys to become responsible men involves teaching them to respect and treat women and girls well.

Respect, of course, is mutual. However, in addressing this particular subject, we cannot shy away from the importance of educating our boys and young men about acceptable behaviour, healthy relationships, personal boundaries and the fact that violence is never a solution to disagreements.

The subject becomes even more heartbreaking when we consider the sexual and physical abuse of children.

While this international observance places particular emphasis on women and girls, let us also remember that our boys are vulnerable to abuse and exploitation. Every child, regardless of gender, deserves to grow up in an environment where he or she feels safe, loved and protected.

Beyond the stories that make the headlines, there are countless experiences of abuse that go unreported. There are women suffering domestic violence at the hands of their partners, children being groomed by adults and young people being subjected to inappropriate behaviour, sometimes by individuals entrusted with their care and protection.

How many suffer in silence because they are afraid, ashamed or believe that no one will listen to them?

We must create an environment in which our children feel comfortable speaking out when something is wrong. We must listen to them, take their concerns seriously and ensure that appropriate action is taken.

Protecting children also means being mindful of the people we expose them to, the environments in which they spend their time and their interactions in the digital world.

Furthermore, we must never allow family ties, friendships, social standing or fear of embarrassment to stand in the way of protecting a victim or holding a perpetrator accountable.

As a society, through our communities, educational institutions, social services, law enforcement agencies and judicial systems, we must demonstrate that such ill-treatment will not be tolerated.

Justice must be pursued, survivors must receive the necessary support and perpetrators must be held accountable.

However, while justice is important in the aftermath of abuse, what are we doing to prevent these incidents from occurring in the first place?

Prevention begins in our homes, in the lessons we teach, in the examples we set and in our willingness to challenge inappropriate behaviour rather than excuse it.

Also, as we continue to observe Youth Month, let us remember that our children, both boys and girls, are our future. They deserve more than words of encouragement about the bright futures that await them. They deserve our active commitment to ensuring that they are safe enough to experience those futures in nurturing environments that shape their lives positively.

Let us protect, defend and support our women and girls. Let us also work towards eliminating the very behaviours that make such protection necessary.

Prevention remains a much-needed cure for this troubling reality of our world.

Brantley Talks Jobs, New Revenue Source In Destiny Project Amid CBI Wind-Down Topic

By: Spokesman Newsroom

BASSETERRE, St. Kitts (Thursday 26th November 2026) -"We need income substitution almost immediately, and it takes time...to turn an economy around. It takes time to diversify."

So said Premier Mark Brantley who, against the backdrop of the planned winding down of the Federation's Citizenship by Investment (CBI) Programme, is pointing to the proposed Special Sustainability Zone (SSZ) Destiny Project in Nevis as a potential source of employment for workers of both islands while underscoring the need for alternative sources of revenue.

Speaking at his monthly press conference held on Monday 23rd November 2026, he outlined employment prospects for workers in the construction and hospitality sectors, while also raising questions about job opportunities for young people upon leaving school.

"I have not given up hope. I believe that that project brings significant value to both Nevis and St. Kitts and that when we can consider a project of that scale occurring over, say, the next two, perhaps longer, decades, then it means that it all goes well for construction activity, for the heavy equipment operators and our truckers, for our artisans, our plumbers, our carpenters, our construction workers."

He added: "and then, of course, as that zone gets going, it all goes well for employment long term for our chefs and our managers and the like."

In addressing the matter of employment opportunities for the younger generation, the Premier questioned where school leavers would find work and spoke of the responsibility to create an environment in which they could thrive.

"I mentioned these graduations. What are those youngsters going to do once they graduate? The parents now would say, 'Well, you're now 17 and 18. You must go and find work.' Where are they going to work? And do we have a collective obligation to provide the environment where those youngsters can thrive? That's my mandate."

Brantley's comments concerning the Destiny Project came in response to questions posed by a representative of the Department of Information concerning, among other matters, the recent joint Cabinet meeting and subsequent discussions, Nevis' capacity to accommodate more than one special economic zone and whether the uncertainty surrounding the approval of the Destiny Project had discouraged potential investors from pursuing such developments in St. Kitts and Nevis.

"The joint Cabinet meeting that occurred between the Cabinet of the Federal Government and the Nevis Island Cabinet, we had one agenda item and that item was the Destiny Project. And that meeting was convened at Koi Resort in St. Kitts and I think we had a very good discussion in relation to that project and that has then been followed up with some more specific meetings that have occurred over the last week," Brantley stated.

"I believe, as I said, that progress is being made and that we hope that we will be in a position in due course to make an announcement in relation to that particular project."

Brantley, in speaking about the future of the Federation's economy, made reference to Prime Minister Dr. Terrance Drew's recent announcement concerning the winding down of the CBI Programme.

"St. Kitts, our sister, will also benefit from this project, and so I want us to understand that particularly now, as we look down the line and we heard our Prime Minister already say that he is working on...winding down; I think that's the language he used, the Citizenship by Investment Programme, that we need alternatives."

He continued: "We need alternatives, and I challenge members of the press, members of the public, what are those alternatives that are currently on the table? Because the island of Nevis and the leadership in Nevis is saying these are what we are looking at."

Brantley further stated: "I spent some time at the start of this press conference setting out what we are looking at to try to engage and try to get income substitution, not in five or 10 years, because we need income substitution almost immediately, and it takes time, ladies and gentlemen, to turn an economy around. It takes time to diversify."

"And so when I mention film and I mention online gaming and I mention geothermal renewable energy and I mention our airport and things like that, these are efforts that we are making. And part of that effort has to be large-scale private investment because the Government cannot do it alone."

The role of the private sector in providing employment also formed part of Brantley's response to a question concerning government expenditure, as he expressed hope that private sector growth would reduce the financial burden associated with government employment.

"I'm hopeful that as the private sector grows, they will take on more of that responsibility of employment and therefore allow us to reduce the burden of that large wages and emolument bill that the Government has to carry."

Asked whether Nevis had the capacity to accommodate more than one special economic zone, Brantley indicated that his administration was not prepared to consider another development of the residential nature of Project Destiny but did not rule out other types of SSZs.

"If somebody were to come and say they want to do a tech park, they want to do an agricultural hub, they want to do an online gaming hub, something of that nature, I will not rule that out, but certainly we are not minded to consider any other large real estate development-type SSZs on Nevis."

In addressing public concerns surrounding the Destiny Project, Brantley stated: "And whilst we understand the concerns and we cannot at all suggest that concerns are unwarranted, I do believe that a lot of those concerns were based on false information that was put into the public domain for political and other reasons and for persons who had their own agenda."

"I am hopeful that once the information is made available to the general public that persons will look at that information and assess it for themselves, including members of the media."

As it relates to the status of the Destiny Project, Brantley stated: "Once we get a green light from Basseterre, we will go ahead and we will initiate the parliamentary process and we will disclose the documentation to the general public and to members of the press."

Director Of Health Projects Comments On Stroke Cases, Specialist Doctors And Staff Training

By: Spokesman Newsroom

BASSETERRE, St. Kitts (Thursday 26th November 2026)- With about two stroke cases being recorded weekly at the Joseph N. France (JNF) General Hospital, Director of Health Projects and Strategic Initiatives at the Ministry of Health, Dr. Jenson Morton, has highlighted contributing health factors, the addition of specialist doctors and training of medical and nursing personnel to manage such medical emergencies.

Speaking during the Wednesday 25th November 2026 edition of 'In Focus', produced by the St. Kitts and Nevis Information Service (SKNIS) with interviewer Ian Richards, he disclosed that eighty-five (85) persons who presented at the JNF General Hospital up to the end of October this year were diagnosed with strokes.

The show's topic for the week was 'Understanding Strokes and the latest updates in Health Care.'

"In general, nationwide, we've been having an increase, a slow and steady increase in our overall rate of obesity and a slow and steady increase in our overall rate of non-communicable diseases, and that includes diabetes and

Saint Kitts And Nevis Secures 2030 Wind-Down of Its Citizenship By Investment Programme

Basseterre, Saint Kitts, November 26, 2026

Further to the National Address delivered by the Honourable Prime Minister, Dr Terrance Drew, on November 13, 2026, the Prime Minister's Office is pleased to inform the public that, following extensive negotiations, Saint Kitts and Nevis has reached agreement with the European Union for the responsible wind-down of the Saint Kitts and Nevis Citizenship by Investment (CBI) Programme, by January 1, 2030.

This timeline, secured by Saint Kitts and Nevis at the negotiating table, gives the Federation more than three years to complete the wind-down in an orderly and responsible way.

The Government is pleased with the negotiated timeline, and with the trust that the European Union has reposed in Saint Kitts and Nevis. That trust was earned through the major CBI reforms the Federation has led since 2022, at home and across our region. The Government thanks the European Commission for its constructive engagement, and our national team for its work throughout the negotiations.

During the transition, the Programme will continue to operate under the strictest standards in its history, and all safeguard measures agreed with the European Union will remain fully in place. The wind-down will be managed in an orderly manner—there will be no reduction in pricing, investment thresholds or due diligence standards. Every safeguard agreed by our region will be followed, and the Eastern Caribbean Citizenship by Investment Regulatory Authority (ECCIRA) will monitor compliance.

For clarity, the Citizenship by Investment Unit will continue to receive new applications until January 31, 2029. Applications submitted before February 1, 2029 may continue to be processed until December 31, 2029, and all processing will be concluded by that date.

The Government reminds the public that this decision was about more than visa-free travel to Europe. It protects our place in the international banking system, including our links to the correspondent banks in the United States, Canada and Europe on which every card payment, every online transaction, every remittance and every import depends. And it safeguards the good name that our Federation has worked so hard over the last four years to rebuild.

The European Commission has also confirmed that it stands ready to continue working closely with Saint Kitts and Nevis throughout the transition, including to support our economic diversification efforts. Serious conversations on that support have already begun, including on geothermal energy, digital connectivity and other projects under the EU's Global Gateway strategy.

The time now agreed will be used well—to complete the CBI-funded projects already in the pipeline, and to accelerate the diversification of our economy under the Sustainable Island State Agenda, so that when Saint Kitts and Nevis steps out of CBI, it steps into a Sustainable Island State, one prosperous for all citizens and residents of our proud Federation.

hypertension. These two ailments in particular, along with heart disease, they're precursors for increasing the likelihood of the general public getting a stroke," he stated.

Dr. Morton also identified smoking, alcohol consumption and other drug use as contributing risk factors, while highlighting the importance of early diagnosis, taking prescribed medication, regular medical visits and healthy lifestyles.

According to him, approximately 17 stroke cases were recorded in May alone, which he described as abnormal compared with other months.

In explaining the two main types of strokes, Dr. Morton stated: "An ischemic stroke is a stroke secondary to a blood clot. Hemorrhagic stroke is a stroke secondary to a burst blood vessel."

Regarding changes within the healthcare system, he highlighted the addition of an endocrinologist to assist with diabetes management and a neurologist to assist with stroke diagnosis, treatment and the establishment of medical protocols.

Dr. Morton also spoke about the addition of an interventional cardiologist and the associated need for advanced equipment and training of other healthcare personnel.

"So it's not a service that can just be sprung up overnight by just one person," he pointed out.

According to him, other changes include upgrades to ambulance services, emergency room triage, laboratory services, physiotherapy and diagnostic equipment, including a 128-slice CT scan machine.

Dr. Morton also highlighted the availability of clot-busting medication, tenecteplase, obtained through a joint purchasing effort involving the Organisation of Eastern Caribbean States (OECS), indicating that the medication is 93 per cent subsidised locally.

Asked about efforts to build the capacity of local doctors and nurses to manage cardiovascular emergencies, Dr. Morton identified the consultant neurologist, cardiologist, emergency medicine specialist, intensivist and anaesthesiologist as key members of the medical team.

"We've always had the pipeline open for specialization for both medical staff as well as nursing staff," he stated.

According to Dr. Morton, a number of nurses have been identified for overseas specialist training, with some having returned following training in areas including intensive care and accident and emergency services.

He also disclosed that a member of the medical staff is currently undertaking research and gaining experience overseas in cardiology, while identifying the consultant intensivist, a resident of Newton Ground, as an example of investment in local medical personnel.

Dr. Morton indicated that opportunities for specialisation in Cuba remain available, while other territories are being explored to expand training options.

Regarding employment benefits during training, he highlighted study leave arrangements and support from the Ministry of Finance and Human Resources.

"And the nursing staff also when they go to get their specialty training they're able to get, I think it's full pay actually. I think they get full pay whilst they're doing their specialization as the arrangement, just because of the tremendous amount of benefits that nurse specialization has to the system," he stated.

According to Dr. Morton, such training courses last approximately 18 months.

He also highlighted the continuing medical education programme and weekly internal case reviews aimed at keeping healthcare personnel informed about medical research and patient presentations.

"All of the staff get the knowledge such that something like this doesn't happen again," he explained.

According to him, collaboration with Rutgers University in New Jersey, United States, also allows local medical personnel to benefit from weekly case presentations at no cost, alongside in-person training and reviews of hospital systems at least twice annually.

St. Kitts & Nevis Brings Home Three Bronze Medals from CHTA Taste of the Caribbean 2026

Basseterre, St. Kitts (November 20, 2026) — The St. Kitts & Nevis National Culinary Team has returned from the Caribbean Hotel & Tourism Association's (CHTA) Taste of the Caribbean 2026 with three bronze medals. The team won bronze medals in the Caribbean Culinary Team of the Year, Seafood and Caribbean Bartender of the Year categories. The region's premier culinary competition was held November 16–19, 2026, at the Wyndham Grand Barbados, Sam Lord's Castle Resort.

Over four days, the team competed against national teams from across the Caribbean. Its chefs took on the Senior Chef, Pastry Chef, Junior Chef and Seafood competitions. Its bartender competed in four rounds of the Caribbean Bartender of the Year category: Non-Alcoholic, Rum, Vodka and Mystery Basket.

The team's bronze in Caribbean Culinary Team of the Year recognises its combined performance across all culinary events. Senior Chef Larisa Collis earned a bronze medal in the Seafood category. Kishnell Warner earned a bronze medal in Caribbean Bartender of the Year, capping four rounds of competition in a single week.

Away from the kitchen, members of the St. Kitts & Nevis delegation appeared live on Good Morning Barbados to share insight on the destination and the National Culinary Team. The guests were Kelly Fontenelle, Chief Executive Officer of the St. Kitts Tourism Authority; Melnecia Marshall, Deputy Chief Executive Officer of the St. Kitts Tourism Authority; Chef Larry Monrose, Team Manager of the St. Kitts & Nevis National Culinary Team; and Stephen Phillip, Product Development Officer at the St. Kitts Tourism Authority.

The Federation also played a visible role at CHTA's Caribbean Hospitality Industry Exchange Forum (CHIEF) 2026, held alongside the competition. CEO Kelly Fontenelle moderated the session on Building Authentic Caribbean Hospitality. The discussion focused on making sure the visitor experience reflects the real warmth, culture and character of the islands. Jewelle Griffin, General Manager of Timothy Beach Resort in St. Kitts, sat on the panel for Breakout Session 05, "Building Smarter Supply Chains: Strengthening Resilience and Food Security."

"It was definitely a fruitful experience," said Team Manager Chef Larry Monrose. "Our team put in the work, competed with heart and represented St. Kitts and Nevis with pride on the regional stage. Coming home with three bronze medals is something we can all be proud of, and it gives us a strong foundation to build on."

"The competition, the friendships, experiences and memories made were truly invaluable," said Team Coach Chef Peter Marshall. "Even greater was the chance to 'market' St. Kitts and Nevis as a TEAM."

For Kishnell Warner, the week was a milestone. "It was a great experience, being that this was my first time competing, and being the only female amongst the guys," she said. "It was a moment I will never forget in my lifetime."

Senior Chef Larisa Collis said, "It was for sure a great experience, even when I doubted myself. It's definitely a learning curve and a learning experience."

Pastry Chef Davida Dickenson said, "It was a great experience for me to take the initiative to participate in this year's Taste of the Caribbean Competition. Although I was extremely nervous, I made it through, and overall we all did well in representing St. Kitts and Nevis."

"Getting the opportunity to represent our home and our country at a huge event like Taste of the Caribbean, I'm grateful," said Junior Chef Kenaro Lee. "I enjoyed seeing everyone compete, do their best and bring that energy. None of this could have been possible without the help of Mr. Marshall, Mr. Monrose, all of our sponsors and everyone who supported us."

Junior Chef Ashanti Dorset described the competition as "an unforgettable experience of passion, creativity, culinary excellence and growth. Every dish told a story, and every moment was a step closer towards greatness!"

SKN TVET Secretariat Exposes Students To Sustainable Agricultural Practices

Basseterre: St. Kitts, Monday, November 23, 2026: During the week of November 16, the St. Kitts and Nevis TVET Secretariat introduced students to eco-friendly farming methods, underscoring its core theme for TVET Month, "TVET for Sustainable Growth and Resilience."

Initiatives such as Little Green Thumbs (Monday, November 16) provided young learners at the Leonie James Preschool with hands-on experiences in planting.

Mrs. Kenicia Williams, Assessment and Quality Assurance Officer (SKNTVETS), shared, "Through hands-on planting, the children learned the importance of growing plants, protecting nature and taking responsibility for their surroundings. It connected to our theme, by showing that building a sustainable future starts with small actions and learning practical skills from an early age."

On Thursday, November 18, form 5 Agricultural Science Students from the Washington Archibald High School participated in the TVET: Sustainable Agriculture in Action initiative at the Clarence Fitzroy Bryant College (CFBC).

"This activity will expose students to modern and environmentally friendly farming practices, while helping them understand the importance of agriculture, food security and protecting our natural resources. The visit connects to our theme, by highlighting how practical skills, innovation, and knowledge in agriculture can contribute to a more sustainable and self-reliant future for St. Kitts and Nevis," explained Mrs. Williams.

These activities help students gain knowledge and skills to protect the environment and build a more sustainable future.

St. Kitts & Nevis Brings Home Three Bronze Medals

Reflecting on the team's return to the regional stage, Kelly Fontenelle, Chief Executive Officer of the St. Kitts Tourism Authority, said: "After more than two decades away, seeing the St. Kitts and Nevis culinary team back on the Taste of the Caribbean stage was a proud and special moment for our destination. Our chefs showcased the creativity, skill and authentic flavours that define our culinary offerings, and in doing so they helped put St. Kitts and Nevis front and centre across the region. This was more than a competition. It was a powerful opportunity to promote our destination through food. We are immensely proud of the entire team, and of the coach and manager who led them, and we thank everyone who rallied behind them. This return is only the beginning of what our culinary talent can achieve."

CIWiL SKN Encourages Women To Share Messages Of Solidarity

By: Spokesman Newsroom

BASSETERRE, St. Kitts (Thursday 26th November 2026) -Women in St. Kitts and Nevis are being encouraged to share photos, videos and messages of solidarity with women who have experienced gender-based violence and in remembrance of those who have lost their lives as a result of such violence.

As understood, the initiative forms part of a social media campaign by the St. Kitts and Nevis National Chapter of Caribbean Women in Leadership (CIWiL) in observance of the 16 Days of Activism Against Gender-Based Violence.

Public Relations Officer (PRO) Elsie Harry made the call during a video presentation posted on the organisation's official Facebook page on Wednesday 25th November 2026, outlining its planned activities for the 16-day observance.

"Our first initiative is a social media campaign that will feature messages of solidarity from women to women who have endured or have been lost as a result of gender-based violence," she stated.

"Feel free to send us your photos and videos so that we can also post your messages to our social media pages. Your voice matters in combating gender-based violence," Harry added.

The annual campaign runs from November 25th, observed as the International Day for the Elimination of Violence Against Women, to December 10th, observed as Human Rights Day.

This year's observance is taking place under the theme "Unite to End Violence Against Women and Girls: Ensure Justice, Protect Survivors, End Impunity."

In addressing the organisation's mission, Harry stated: "Our mission is to ensure that women are able to participate fully in political life and in leadership roles, and we believe that this is only possible if women are free from the fear of violence."

She indicated that the local chapter will be rolling out a number of activities designed to raise awareness surrounding gender-based violence and inspire action.

"Please watch this space on our social media accounts so that you can see how you can participate in these various initiatives," she said.

"Together, we can ensure justice, protect survivors and end impunity," Harry concluded.

The CIWiL St.Kitts & Nevis National Chapter is described to be a non-partisan and independent organization which aims to increase women's political participation in St.Kitts and Nevis and the region.

Global Security Has No Room for Blind Spots: Why Taiwan Belongs in INTERPOL

By ROC Taiwan Ambassador H.E. Edward Ling-wen Tao

For island nations like St. Kitts- Nevis and Taiwan, the sea is not a barrier—it is a vital artery connecting us to the world. Yet in an era of hyper-connectivity and borderless digital technology, those same global networks are increasingly exploited by transnational criminals. From sophisticated cyber-fraud syndicates and cryptocurrency laundering to international narcotics trafficking, crime knows no borders. Unfortunately, global law enforcement remains handicapped by a glaring blind spot: the political exclusion of Taiwan from the International Criminal Police Organization (INTERPOL).

Founded in 1923, INTERPOL's mandate under Article 2 of its Constitution is clear: to "ensure and promote the widest possible mutual assistance between all criminal police authorities." Despite this mission, Taiwan has been barred from the organization for over four decades due to Beijing's deliberate distortion of United Nations General Assembly Resolution 2758. By conflating UN representation with Taiwan's participation in specialized bodies, China has obstructed Taiwan's engagement across the international system. Only Taiwan's democratically elected government has the legitimacy to represent its 23.5 million people—and when Taiwan is silenced, partners around the globe, including across the Caribbean, pay the price.

For nations in the Caribbean Community (CARICOM) that rely heavily on maritime trade, international tourism, and secure financial systems, intelligence gaps create real vulnerabilities. Without direct access to INTERPOL's I-24/7 global police communications system, Taiwanese law enforcement cannot share or receive real-time intelligence on cross-border threats. Furthermore, because Taiwan's passport grants visa-free access to over 100 countries, it is a prime target for syndicates trafficking in fraudulent travel documents. Every delay in intelligence sharing creates a window for fugitives to transit undetected, digital evidence to vanish, and illicit financial flows to disappear into the shadows.

Excluding Taiwan also deprives the world of a proven law enforcement partner. Taiwan ranks fourth among 147 nations on Numbeo's safety index and first in Asia, with nearly 86 percent public satisfaction in police maintenance of order. More importantly, Taiwan translates domestic excellence into international security dividends. Working with global partners, Taiwan's National Police Agency recently helped dismantle major narcotics networks, seizing 430 kilograms of cocaine and 1.8 tons of ketamine—disrupting the same transnational drug routes that threaten communities from the Pacific to the Caribbean Basin.

In the digital realm, where INTERPOL warns that financial fraud is a fast-growing threat intersecting with organized crime, Taiwan is on the front lines. Through big-data analytics and interagency coordination, Taiwan has cut domestic fraud cases by 20 percent and financial losses by 47 percent. Internationally, joint investigations between Taiwanese and U.S. authorities uncovered the massive transnational fraud and money-laundering operation of the Southeast-Asia based Prince Holding Group, seizing hundreds of millions of dollars in illicit assets and cryptocurrencies—earning the 2026 Best Egmont Case Award. Similarly, Taiwan's cyber-investigators traced dark-web cryptocurrency trails to take down child sexual exploitation network, rescuing thousands of victims.

Saint Kitts and Nevis has long been a steadfast champion of democratic values and Taiwan's meaningful participation on the world stage—a friendship for which Taiwan remains deeply grateful. As small democracies facing shared security challenges, our safety depends on collective vigilance. We urge the international community to support Taiwan's substantive participation as an observer in the INTERPOL General Assembly, along with access to meetings, training, and intelligence networks. It is time to put public safety above politics and bring Taiwan into the fold.

Dottin out to 'free ball' after historic WBBL decision

Deandra Dottin, wearing a red helmet, red top, white gloves and black trousers, walks from the field in front of a group of celebrating Brisbane Heat players (teal tops, black trousers)
Image source, Getty Images
Dottin's wicket was the third to fall in six balls as Melbourne Renegades' innings faltered

A bizarre dismissal in the Women's Big Bash saw Brisbane Heat's Sarah Glenn bowling to an empty set of stumps, external after Melbourne Renegades new batter Deandra Dottin was ruled to have taken too long to face the delivery.

Experienced West Indies all-rounder Dottin walked out to bat, following the dismissal of Georgia Wareham, with her equipment in disarray and proceeded to adjust her helmet and begin putting on her gloves after arriving in the middle.

Rules introduced before the 2021 WBBL season to speed up play state that an incoming batter must be ready to face - or the non-striker to receive - the next delivery within 75 seconds of a dismissal or retirement.

The umpires adjudged Dottin to have exceeded this time limit and instructed her to stand aside from stumps, while awarding Glenn a free ball.

Glenn hit the middle and leg stumps to remove Dottin for a golden duck. The bowler was initially uncertain how to celebrate - she laughed and covered her face with her hands - before being mobbed by her team-mates.

However, despite the wicket reducing the Renegades to 97-5 with 41 runs needed from 34 balls, they completed their chase of 138 off the final delivery of the match to win by three wickets.

St. Kitts & Nevis To Take The World Stage At The 2026 World Aquatics Swimming Championships In Beijing

St. Kitts & Nevis – The St. Kitts & Nevis Aquatics Federation (SKNAF) is proud to announce that national swimmers Jonathan Essien-Bardales and Skyla Connor will represent St. Kitts & Nevis at the 2026 World Aquatics Swimming Championships (25m), taking place in Beijing, China, from December 1–6, 2026. The competition will be held at the Beijing National Aquatics Centre, also known as the Water Cube.

The prestigious six-day championship will bring together some of the world's leading swimmers, providing an opportunity for athletes from across the globe to compete at the highest level of international swimming.

For Jonathan and Skyla, participation represents another significant milestone in their swimming careers and an opportunity to proudly represent their country on one of the sport's biggest international stages.

Both athletes have been working hard in preparation for the championships, building on their recent competitive performances and continuing their development under the guidance of their coaching teams, including Coach James Weekes.

Skyla recently delivered an outstanding performance at the OECS Swimming Championships in Saint Lucia, capturing nine medals and recording several personal best times. The competition was held in a 25-meter pool, providing valuable preparation for the upcoming World Championships.

Jonathan has also been competing in Sweden, recording personal best performances in butterfly events as he fine-tunes his preparation for Beijing.

At the World Championships, Jonathan will compete in the 50m and 100m Butterfly, while Skyla will take on the 50m Freestyle and 50m Breaststroke.

The St. Kitts & Nevis Aquatics Federation extends its sincere appreciation to the St. Kitts and Nevis Olympic Committee (SKNOC) for its continued support and commitment to the development of national athletes and the advancement of sport throughout the Federation.

The SKNOC plays an important role in supporting athletes as they pursue opportunities on the international stage, helping to strengthen the country's sporting representation and aspirations.

The Federation also acknowledges World Aquatics for its continued support of swimming development and its contribution to creating pathways for athletes from St. Kitts & Nevis to participate in international competition.

As Jonathan Essien-Bardales and Skyla Connor prepare to compete against the world's best in Beijing, their participation represents not only personal achievement but also the continued progress and growing international presence of St. Kitts & Nevis swimming.

The Federation invites the people of St. Kitts & Nevis to join in supporting Jonathan and Skyla as they proudly carry the national flag onto the world stage.

The St. Kitts & Nevis Aquatics Federation wishes both swimmers every success at the 2026 World Aquatics Swimming Championships.

St. Paul's United Climb To Summit As Round One Of Premier League Concludes

BASSETERRE, ST. KITTS – S. L. Horsford's St. Paul's United have taken over the top spot in the SKNFA/NBG Premier League standings following an emphatic 6-1 victory over 607 Construction Lodge Patriots on Sunday, November 22, at the National Bank Group Technical Center.

St. Paul's capitalized on Rams Village Superstars' slip-up, as the former league leaders suffered a narrow 1-0 defeat to MFCR Old Road United Jets on Saturday, bringing Round One of the competition to an exciting conclusion.

In Sunday's second match of the doubleheader, Honda Newtown United secured an impressive 5-2 victory over SOL IAS Conaree. Dakari Phipps opened the scoring for Newtown in the 19th minute, with Akimba Lawrence doubling the advantage five minutes later. Sylvester Caines added a third before the break, despite Errol O'Loughlin pulling one back for Conaree in the 31st minute.

Newtown continued their dominance in the second half, benefiting from a 64th-minute own goal by Conaree's Sylford Lampkin. Phipps then completed his brace in the 74th minute to make it five for Newtown. Malik France grabbed a consolation goal for Conaree in stoppage time. Rams Village Superstars were edged 1-0 by MFCR Old Road United Jets, with Kaylon Liburd scoring the decisive goal in the 85th minute. Earlier on Saturday, Azul Cayon Rockets battled to a hard-fought 2-1 victory over SKELEC Garden Hotspurs. Garden Hotspurs got off to a flying start when Joel Henry bundled the ball over the line in the fourth minute.

However, Cayon responded through Carlos Bertie, who converted from the penalty spot to restore parity. Yohannes Mitchum then sealed all three points for the Rockets with a 77th-minute strike.

Following the match, Cayon player Malik Hendrickson shared his thoughts on the team's performance. "We started a little bit slow and flat. But after some encouraging words from Captain Mervin (Lewis), we kind of banded together and we kind of pushed forward to get the equaliser. And we just kept the momentum going," Hendrickson said.

Assistant Coach of Garden Hotspurs Rohan Browne blamed youth and inexperience of some of his players for the loss. "We made some tactical changes to the game. We worked out and got a goal in the first five minutes. We did well. But, you know, a little bit of youth...a challenge in there for the penalty that brought them back into the game. But I don't think without that, we'd probably be able to hold out a bit longer.... it is going to be a learning experience for a young player. But, unfortunately, that's how the game goes sometimes," Browne said.

Match Week 9 got underway on Friday night with an exciting seven-goal thriller between Development Bank St. Peters and Trans Global Engineering Ltd. Dieppe Bay Eagles, with St. Peters emerging victorious in a 4-3 encounter.

Tyquan Terrell was the star of the night, producing a remarkable four-goal performance. He found the back of the net in the 1st, 4th, 38th and 90+2 minutes to lead St. Peters to victory. Dieppe Bay Eagles, however, refused to go down without a fight. Kenroy Hodge, Xavier Wilkinson and Josiah Bradshaw all got on the scoresheet in the 30th, 53rd and 90+4th minutes respectively, but their efforts were not enough to salvage a point.

With Round One officially concluded, attention now shifts to the Council Cup, as the Premier League's top eight teams prepare to battle for another piece of silverware.

The competition kicks off this Saturday, November 28, at 6:00 p.m. at the National Bank Group Technical Center, marking the return of the SKNFA cup competition as an annual fixture on the football calendar. Fans can look forward to another exciting chapter in the domestic football season as clubs turn their attention to the race for the Council Cup title.
