Celebrating Independence 40 In A Big Way

The general mood in the country is giving the feeling that this 40th Independence Anniversary celebration is one for the history books.

From that amazing drone show at the Independence Ceremonial Parade to that Independence Reset that many workers are looking forward to, there is no doubt that the packed filled calendar festivities has something for everyone. There has been National Pride Fair, Service of Gratitude with a Gospel Concert and a Senior Fun day and so much more.

When things are going well in the country, we should celebrate, and we have a grand occasion to do observe this milestone achievement. Having reached 40 years, we have much to exhibit gratitude and hope for the betterment of our beloved twin-island Federation.

From the decoration of government buildings to the home of common citizens and residents, there is a widespread sentiments of love and patriotic pride going around.

It must be said that displaying the love for country truly ignites a passion for many of us. From the deep conversations about whence we came, congratulatory messages from people from all walks of life in our nation to the various fashionable expressions through clothing

Killed Gas Station Worker Got Wound To Heart

...Brothers Charged

By: Spokesman Newsroom

BASSETERRE, St.Kitts (Thursday 21st September 2023) -An autopsy report has indicated that Kevonne Smithen, the 24-year-old male gas station worker who was fatally stabbed on the job, died from injuries sustained about his upper body, including a wound to the heart.

A police statement revealed that cause of death was “hypovolemic shock due to a perforating wound to the heart & a stab wound to the anterior chest wall.”

The young man’s body was examined by Resident Pathologists Dr. Adrian Nunez and Dr. Naudica Phillip on Monday 18th September 2023.

In other related news, police have arrested and charged two brothers in their early 20s, namely 21 year-old Danny Blake and 22 year-old Elvis Blake, both of New Pond Site, St. Kitts, for Smithen’s murder.

Reportedly, both men were charged on September 18th at the Basseterre Police Station.

On Thursday 14th September, wanted posters were issued, and on the following day (15th September), police gave an update that they were in custody following their apprehension in the Cayon area that day.

The Royal St. Christopher and Nevis Police Force extends profound gratitude to the general public for their assistance in this matter.

A continued call was made encouraging persons with information about other matters of interest to call the nearest Police station, or the Crime Stoppers Hotline, 707.

Police say the fatal wounding that occurred on Monday 11th September at a gas station on Victoria Road, Basseterre, St. Kitts, between 6:30PM and 7PM.

Reportedly, having received reports of the incident, officers of the Violent Crime Unit (VCU) and the Criminal Investigations Department (CID) of the Royal St. Christopher and Nevis Police Force (RSCNPF) responded to the scene.

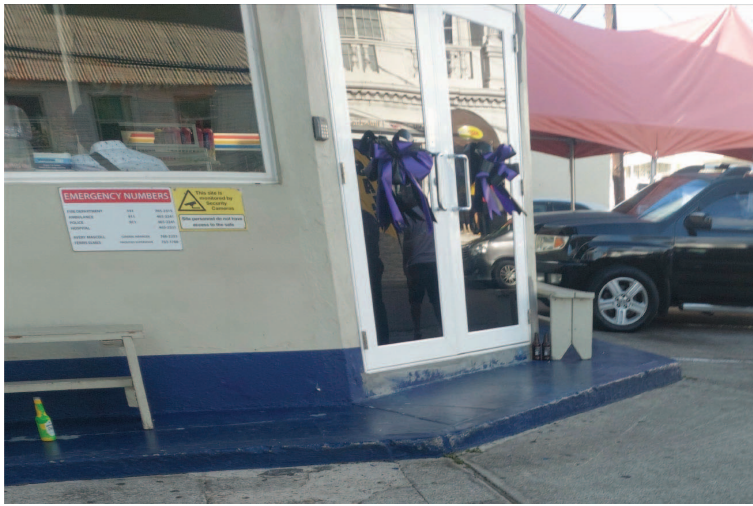

Upon their arrival, Smithen was observed laying motionless on the ground with a knife lodged in his back and multiple wounds about his body.

According to police, initial inquiries indicate that Smithen, an employee of the gas station, was accosted by two (2) armed assailants while attending to vehicles.

Reportedly, the assailants

Patriotic Drone Show For Independence 40 Wows Onlookers

... SKNRA Talks About Working With

By: Precious Mills

BASSETTERRE, St.Kitts (Thursday 21st September 2023)- Multiple drones took to the air to form various patriotic shapes for the special 40th Independence anniversary event held at the Warner Park Cricket Stadium in Basseterre ushering in Independence Day-Tuesday 19th September 2023- after 1:00 AM following the annual Independence Ceremonial parade.

For that first ever drone show in St.Kitts-Nevis, the crowd took pleasure is applauding and cheering with excitement. Many people while looking up at the aerial display had fun guessing the upcoming figures and with much patriotic delight shouted the answer.

The scores of spectators also used their cellphones to capture the historic moment.

Shapes which lit up like constellations in the sky included the twin-island federation, National Flag, the nation's first National Hero Robert L. Bradshaw, the national bird-the Brown Pelican, the words 'ST.KITTS AND NEVIS', A locomotive (train) with the 'choo choo' sound effect and this year's '40' logo.

The St.Kitts and Nevis Robotic Association (SKNRA), via a Facebook post on Wednesday 20th September 2023, dubbed the drone show "A Spectacular Night of Innovation! St Kitts and Nevis 40th Independence Drone Show" following the team work assignment with LunaLite Drone Show Technologies (LunaLite Drone Show Technologies) from the US.

"We're taking a moment to express our immense gratitude to LunaLite Drone Show Technologies (LunaLite Drone Show Technologies) for their outstanding collaboration in bringing to life the St Kitts and Nevis 40th Independence Drone show. SKNRA worked hand in hand with LunaLite to make this remarkable event a reality, and we couldn't be more thankful for their support," the post read.

Heartfelt thanks was also given to following members of the SKNRA Drone Research Programme for their dedication and hard work: Mr. Dijon Samuel, Mr. Antonio Harey an Mr. Malique Liburd, indicating that "Your unwavering commitment to pushing the boundaries of drone technology is truly commendable, and your collaboration with LunaLite has elevated our celebration to new heights."

Additionally, special shout out goes to director Adrian Allen "for his exceptional guidance and leadership throughout this journey. Your expertise and vision were instrumental in making this event a resounding triumph."

According to the association: "SKNRA is immensely proud to have partnered with LunaLite Drone Show Technologies for this groundbreaking event. Together, we have not only celebrated our nation's 40th Independence Day but also showcased the incredible potential of drone technology in our celebrations."

Indiviuual have also been encouraged to visit www.LunaLiteDroneShow.com to learn more about this extraordinary collaboration and the cutting-edge work done by LunaLite Drone Show Technologies.

As gleaned from that website in the Frequently Asked Questions About Drone Shows section: "A drone light show is a performance where multiple drones with LEDs attached are flown in a coordinated manner to create a mesmerizing light display in the sky."

ROC Taiwan Foreign Minister Dr. Wu impressed with the level of development on Nevis

NIA CHARLESTOWN NEVIS (September 21, 2023)- Foreign Minister of the Republic of China (Taiwan) Dr. Jaushieh Wu has congratulated the Honourable Premier Mark Brantley and his administration for the evident progress and development on the island of Nevis over the past few years.

Dr. Wu, appointed by ROC Taiwan President Tsai Ing-wen as Special Envoy to visit St. Kitts and Nevis during the celebration of the 40th anniversary of Independence, visited the island of Nevis on September 19. His delegation was hosted by Her Honour Mrs. Hyleeta Liburd, Deputy Governor-General and Premier Hon. Mark Brantley.

"I'm honoured to be here again to celebrate the auspicious fortieth anniversary of Independence of St. Kitts and Nevis.

The renowned 'Nevis Nice' hospitality is always a delight," Dr. Wu commented.

"Going around this remarkable island I fondly recall my last visit four years ago. I'm astounded by the transformation that is taking place."

Following a luncheon at the Four Seasons Resort, Nevis with members of the Nevis Island Administration (NIA) Cabinet and other senior civil servants, the Foreign Minister was the guest of honour at a welcome ceremony held at the Malcolm Guishard Recreational Park. The visiting diplomat was treated to performances in Mandarin from some of the students who recently passed the Test Of Chinese as a Foreign Language (TOCFL) Computerized Adaptive Test (CAT).

Commending the students Dr. Wu said, "I'm so impressed by the speeches and singing performances. They show the success of the Mandarin program and highlight the dedication of Miss Chen [Chi] as well as the diligence of the students.

"I commend the leaders of Nevis for their efforts to broaden

12. Allister Williams - Culture

13. Alva Bradley - Broadcasting
14. Donald Freeman - Sports and Community Activism
15. Patrick Wallace - Law Enforcement
16. Austin ‘Deco’ Huggins - Sports

During his address Prime Minister Drew lauded the National Heroes of Saint Kitts and Nevis, The Right Excellent Sir Robert Llewellyn Bradshaw, the nation’s first National Hero; Sir Caleb Azariah Paul Southwell, Sir Joseph Nathaniel France, Sir Simeon Daniel; and Sir Kennedy Alphonse Simmonds, the only living National Hero within the Federation, for their indelible contributions to nation building.

‘On this day, we remember the remarkable legacies of our national heroes’ those individuals who, from humble beginnings, rose to become the guiding lights of our nation. Their stories serve as a powerful reminder that greatness resides within us all, waiting to be awakened through dedication, focus, and a relentless pursuit of positive change... These heroes’ legacies remind us that dedication knows no bounds. They urge us to see failures not as setbacks but as opportunities to grow sustainably, develop maturely, and build resiliency. As they did, we too can transform our lives and our nation”, he stated.

Prime Minister further stated, “But heroes are not just found in history books; they walk among us every day. They are the educators shaping young minds, the healthcare workers saving lives, the community leaders forging bonds, and the individuals who, through small acts of kindness, make our nation stronger”, highlighting a few of the various sectors the honourees are recognized for. Their tireless efforts across the various fields have not only enriched their respective communities but also significantly impacted the nation at large.

The Honourable Prime Minister issued a challenge to all citizens of the Federation of Saint Kitts and Nevis urging everyone to be inspired to strive for excellence in their various endeavours.

“On this National Heroes Day, I challenge each of us to recognize the hero within ourselves. We can all be heroes in our daily lives, not through grand gestures but through simple acts of kindness, and empathy, and being our brothers’ and sisters’ keepers... every one of us has the potential to make a positive impact and become a hero in our daily lives” stated Prime Minister Drew.

The Government of Saint Kitts and Nevis extends its heartfelt gratitude and congratulations to all the recipients of these prestigious awards.

OECS Commission Commends Saint Kitts and Nevis on its 40th Independence Anniversary

OECS Media Release

Tuesday, September 19, 2023 - The Organisation of Eastern Caribbean States (OECS) Commission extends its warmest congratulations to the Government and people of the Federation of Saint Kitts and Nevis on the occasion of their 40th Independence Anniversary on Tuesday, September 19, 2023.

To mark the occasion, the OECS Commission held a virtual flag raising ceremony featuring addresses from Prime Minister of Saint Kitts and Nevis and Chairman of the OECS Authority, Hon. Dr. Terrance Drew, and the OECS Director General, Dr. Didacus Jules. This year's anniversary is being celebrated under the theme "Growing Sustainably, Developing Maturely, Building Resiliency: Independence 40."

In his remarks, Prime Minister Drew reflected on the milestones that have shaped the nation's journey to its 40th Anniversary, while emphasizing the importance of sustainability, resilience, and intra-regional travel for Saint Kitts and Nevis' continued progress on the world stage.

On embracing sustainability, Prime Minister Drew said:

"We must commit ourselves to sustainable practices, not only for our own benefit, but as stewards of this precious planet. Let us lead by example as a region, showing the world that small nations can indeed be mighty in their efforts to combat climate change, preserve biodiversity, and promote clean, renewable energy sources."

Prime Minister Drew also called on OECS member states to unite in a shared commitment to sustainable development:

"I extend a heartfelt invitation to our fellow OECS member states to join us in this endeavor toward sustainability. Let us work hand in hand towards a future where sustainable island states stand as a testament to the power of unity and shared purpose of our Caribbean nations. Together, we can overcome any obstacle and seize every opportunity that lies before us."

Reflecting on the theme of this year's anniversary, OECS Director General Dr. Didacus Jules highlighted the significance of Saint Kitts and Nevis' contributions on the global stage. According to Dr. Jules,

"Four decades of independence have been a masterclass in maturity for Saint Kitts and Nevis. The journey from a newly independent state to a nation with a defined place on the global stage is filled with complexities. Developing maturely means making decisions that are not just popular, but also wise and forward-thinking. It is about understanding that the truest form of growth often requires patience, sacrifice, and a commitment to values and principles. In international relations, economic policies, and social initiatives, Saint Kitts and Nevis has showcased its capacity for nuanced, mature decision-making, balancing immediate needs with long-term goals."

The OECS Commission acknowledges the profound contribution of Saint Kitts and Nevis to the growth and development of the OECS family, and looks forward to continuing to serve the Government and people of Saint Kitts and Nevis in their ongoing quest to achieve their development aspirations.

Rape victims say police investigations causing more harm

IMAGE SOURCE, GETTY IMAGES

MPs have called on the government to do more to support rape victims

By Jemma Crew
BBC News

Three-quarters of survivors of sexual violence who took part in a survey say their mental health worsened because of how the police investigated.

Some said the perpetrator continued to harm them because police did not take their report seriously; others wished they had never contacted the police.

Four in 10 respondents did not feel believed, according to the research.

Safeguarding minister Sarah Dines said she would be encouraging chief constables to reflect on the findings.

One survivor said: "I am more afraid of the police than being raped again."

Another said: "I would rather be assaulted 1,000 times over than go through the police process again."

Some 1,968 survivors who had interacted with the police opted to take part in the anonymous survey between 16 January and 30 June. A further 190 survivors shared why they chose not to make a police report.

It was funded by the Home Office as part of Operation Soteria Bluestone. All police forces in England and Wales are signed up to the programme, aimed at transforming how rape and sexual offences are investigated.

'Tremendous harm'

Some survivors told the survey that officers had protected them from further harm, "treating them with tremendous kindness, empathy, and care".

These were, "sadly", a minority, the report said.

Almost a third (31%) said they did not always feel safe in the presence of the officers.

In addition to 75% saying their mental health deteriorated, 55% said their physical health decreased, 41% said their personal safety declined, and 54% said their trust in police declined due to their police experience.

One participant said seeing a police car now triggers a panic attack.

More than half (56%) of respondents said they were unlikely to report a rape to the police again.

Some said they had been raped again since their report, but had not told the police. They said they feared the police more than the perpetrator.

The report says this "suggests that as a result of traumatic police experiences, some survivors have de-facto lost access to what should be a universal public service available to all - being able to call the police when in danger".

Professor Katrin Hohl, lead academic on the survey, said: "The findings are sobering. They evidence the tremendous harm poor policing has caused to many rape and sexual assault survivors."

Black and minority ethnic survivors were less likely than white respondents to feel the police had looked at all the evidence, made them feel comfortable, or made them feel like the rape or sexual assault was not their fault.

People who had been harmed by a current partner reported the poorest experiences, compared with those assaulted by a stranger or those with other relationships to the perpetrator.

Autistic survivors and those with a physical disability also reported poorer experiences.

But people who either reported the case in the previous six months or who had contact with the police in the three months prior reported significantly better experiences.

Six in 10 of these respondents said police did a good job in their case, compared with 36% whose last police contact was more than three months ago.

This could be an early sign of improvements in how cases are being handled, the report says. It could also, however, reflect that experiences tend to be more positive in the initial stages of the investigation.

Researchers said the survey is not representative of all survivors' experiences with the police, due to the way participants were selected, and therefore cannot be used to generalise.

Of those who took part, 27 said the person they had accused was a serving police officer at the time of the assault. Three people were allowed to join a police force despite the rape or sexual assault report made against them.

One survivor said the officer investigating their case went on to rape them.

Safeguarding minister Sarah Dines said: "Rape is an abhorrent crime and I have been clear that we need radical improvement in the way the police handle and investigate rape and sexual violence to ensure all victims have the best support possible throughout the entire process.

"I am committed to supporting officers to strengthen their response to these crimes, which is why I am continuing to fund the ambitious programme, Operation Soteria, to transform the way that rape investigations and prosecutions are handled and

Google accused of directing motorist to drive off collapsed bridge

By Max Matza
BBC News

The family of a US man who drowned after driving off a collapsed bridge are claiming that he died because Google failed to update its maps.

Philip Paxson's family are suing the company over his death, alleging that Google negligently failed to show the bridge had fallen nine years earlier.

September 2022 after attempting to drive over the damaged bridge in Hickory,

North Carolina.

A spokesperson for Google said the company was reviewing the allegations.

The case was filed in civil court in Wake County on Tuesday.

Mr Paxson, a father of two, was driving home from his daughter's ninth birthday party at a friend's house and was in an unfamiliar neighbourhood at the time of his death, according to the family's lawsuit.

His wife had driven his two daughters home earlier, and he stayed behind to help clean up.

"Unfamiliar with local roads, he relied on Google Maps, expecting it would safely direct him home to his wife and daughters," lawyers for the family said in a statement announcing the lawsuit.

"Tragically, as he drove cautiously in the darkness and rain, he unsuspectingly followed Google's outdated directions to what his family later learned for nearly a decade was called the 'Bridge to Nowhere,' crashing into Snow Creek, where he drowned."

Local residents had repeatedly contacted Google to have them change their online maps after the bridge collapsed in 2013, the suit claims.

The bridge collapsed nine years before the death

Barriers that were normally placed across the bridge entrance were missing due to vandalism, according to the Charlotte Observer.

The lawsuit is also suing three local companies, arguing they had a duty to maintain the bridge.

"Our girls ask how and why their daddy died, and I'm at a loss for words they can understand because, as an adult, I still can't understand how those responsible for the GPS directions and the bridge could have acted with so little regard for human life," his wife, Alicia Paxson, said in a statement.

"We have the deepest sympathies for the Paxson family," a spokesman for Google told AP News.

"Our goal is to provide accurate routing information in Maps and we are reviewing this lawsuit."

progressed, with a focus on investigating the suspect rather than the victim."

The National Police Chiefs Council (NPCC) said Operation Soteria would improve victims' experiences and address low charge and conviction rates.

Thanking survivors for taking part in the survey, Chief Constable Sarah Crew, NPCC lead for rape and adult sexual offences, said: "We have taken an honest and open look at the way we work, have welcomed academics in to scrutinise it and provide us with direction for how we can improve.

"This is not easy, but it is vital, we are determined to do better for victims."

The survey will remain open until June 2024.

Important Update for BACOL Policyholders: Progress and Next Steps in Legal Proceedings

- * Two-Phase Approach to the Legal Case
- * No Additional Costs for Policyholders
- * Request for Outstanding Documents

In response to the eagerly anticipated developments surrounding the ongoing legal proceedings of the BACOL case at the Caribbean Court of Justice (CCJ), stakeholders and case managers convened in a significant BACOL General Meeting. The meeting delivered a comprehensive overview of recent advancements, as presented by Dr. Patrick Antoine, President of BACOL, and Mr. Gregory Pantin, a distinguished legal practitioner closely associated with the case.

Structured Two-Phase Legal Approach:

During the convened assembly, Dr. Patrick Antoine and Mr. Gregory Pantin elucidated a meticulous two-phase trajectory for the ongoing legal case. The first phase of the legal process will be dedicated to a specific subset of policyholders. This intricately designed phase-based methodology seeks to enhance procedural efficiency and expediency. Upon the culmination of the initial phase, the subsequent stage will encompass a broader spectrum, including all other implicated islands and claimants. This methodical two-phase approach underscores the strategic emphasis on a comprehensive and equitable resolution.

Absence of Supplementary Financial Implications:

Amidst apprehensions regarding potential supplementary expenses due to the phased proceedings, stakeholders have been reassured that no supplementary financial implications will arise from this approach. The existing financial commitment caters comprehensively to both phases of the legal proceedings. This assurance underscores BACOL's commitment to ensuring unencumbered access to legal recourse for all policyholders.

Requisition for Pending Documentation:

In a concerted effort to fortify the legal proceedings, stakeholders are earnestly requested to furnish any pending documentation to their appointed case managers. Recognizing the pivotal role of these documents in formulating a robust legal representation, stakeholders' cooperation has been solicited to bolster the efficacy of the legal strategy.

The collective perseverance and unwavering commitment demonstrated by the registered members throughout this intricate process have been profoundly acknowledged. BACOL remains resolutely dedicated to securing a favorable and equitable resolution for each policyholder. Collaboratively, the proficient BACOL team, alongside legal experts, continues to steadfastly navigate the complexities intrinsic to these legal proceedings, steadfast in their pursuit of justice.

For regular updates, stakeholders are encouraged to maintain connectivity through their respective case managers or by visiting the official BACOL website at www.bacol.info. The tenacity and unwavering trust of the stakeholders are profoundly appreciated and reciprocated. Together, a triumphant resolution to this intricate legal juncture stands within reach.

Independence 40: PM Drew hails National Service of Gratitude and Gospel Concert

BASSETTERRE, ST. KITTS, September 18, 2023 (MMS-SKN) — Prime Minister of the Federation St. Kitts and Nevis, the Hon Dr Terrance Drew, is acclaiming the camaraderie that is being exhibited by citizens and residents as they indulge and participate in the celebratory events that are being put out by the Government as the country celebrates the 40th anniversary of its independence.

“The people are coming out to the activities - you can see people came out to the service, and the camaraderie,â€ expressed Prime Minister Drew. “People meeting each other is a demonstration of our gratefulness for what we have achieved, and I like the spirit of the people. I also want to recognise our international partners who have come to celebrate this 40th Anniversary with us.”

The Honourable Prime Minister made the remarks at the National Service of Gratitude and Gospel Concert that was held on Sunday September 17 at the Conaree Cricket Centre, adjacent to the National Heroes Park, that was attended by a hugely enthusiastic wide cross-section of nationals and residents that was led by the Governor General, Her Excellency Dame Marcella Liburd, GCMG, JP.

Also in attendance was the Deputy Governor General for Nevis, Her Honour Hyleeta Liburd, O.B.E., M.H., and Mr Elmo Liburd, and the Premier of Nevis the Hon Dr Mark Brantley, who is also the Leader of the Royal Opposition in the National Assembly.

Supporting them were members of the Federal Cabinet who included, Deputy Prime Minister the Hon Dr Geoffrey Hanley, Senior Minister the Rt Hon Dr Denzil Douglas, the Hon Marsha Henderson, the Hon Konris Maynard, and the Hon Isalean Phillip, and Cabinet Secretary Dr Marcus Natta.

From Nevis, Premier Brantley was accompanied by Deputy Premier the Hon Eric Evelyn, Junior Minister the Hon Jahnel Nisbett, Federal Parliamentarian for Nevis 11, the Hon Alexis Jeffers, Deputy Speaker of the National Assembly the Hon Latoya Jones, and Cabinet Secretary in the Nevis Island Administration, Mr Stedmond Tross.

Others present included Commissioner of Police, Mr James Sutton, Commander of the St. Kitts and Nevis Defence Force, Lieutenant Colonel J. Anthony Comrie, and other senior members of the armed forces, and members of the diplomatic corps.

“Today was the National Service of Gratitude for the 40th anniversary of independence, and I think we have a lot to be grateful for,” pointed out Dr Drew. “Our country has come far, it has been battling through post-Covid with all the challenges, but we are faring well and we will do even better as we go forward, so happy 40th Anniversary to all Kittitians, Nevisians, and residents on this momentous occasion.”

Held under the theme ‘Growing sustainably, Developing Maturely, Building Resiliency: Independence 40’, the service saw Prime Minister Drew read the Old Testament Lesson from 1 Chronicles 16: 7-14, while Premier of Nevis the Hon Brantley read the New Testament Lesson from 1 Peter 2: 4-5, 9-10.

Sermon was delivered by Pastor Renecia Huggins of St. Paul’s Wesleyan Holiness. Other clergypersons taking part in the service included Rev Onita Samuel-Warner, Apostle Debbie Isaac, Pastor Ron Daniel, Pastor Boris Johnson, Prophet Tariq Hercules, and The Rt. Rev Ernest A. Flemming.

The highly anticipated Independence 40 Praise & Worship Concert was emceed by Bishop Dr. Phillip Webb, and Mrs Jasmine ‘Jazzy-D’ Thomas of ZIZ Broadcasting Corporation (ZBC). It featured local acts led by Nevis-based Ms Venelle Powell, Blestina, and Paige Gumbs from St. Kitts, and the Rootz Gospel Band.

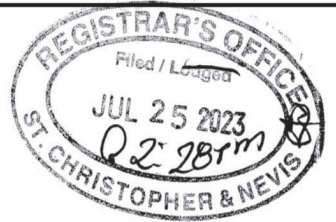

Prime Minister the Hon Dr Terrance Drew, with Governor General Her Excellency Dame Marcella Liburd, GCMG, JP, during the first half of the ceremony, which was the National Service of Gratitude.

Guest artists were the evergreen Grace Thrillers out of Jamaica, and mingled with members of and Todd Dulaney from the USA.

The CG United Super50 Cup 2023 to start on 17 October with new eight-team league format

Trinidad will host 31 matches from Tuesday 17 October to Saturday 11 November Semi-finals and Final to be played under lights at Brian Lara Cricket Academy

ST. JOHN’S, Antigua - Cricket West Indies (CWI) today announced the match schedule and venues for the CG United Super50 Cup 2023. The region’s premier List A 50-over tournament will bowl off on Tuesday, 17 October and conclude on Saturday 11 November in Trinidad with a new eight-team league format followed by Semi-Finals and Finals to determine the Champions.

The event will feature 31 matches to be played at three venues: the Brian Lara Cricket Academy (BLCA), the Queen’s Park Oval (QPO) and the Sir Frank Worrell Cricket Grounds of the University of the West Indies Sport and Physical Education Centre (UWI SPEC) at the St. Augustine Campus. All 13 matches at the Brian Lara Academy, including the semi-finals and final, will be televised live on ESPN Caribbean, with 12 of those matches being day/night game.

This year’s CG United Super50 Cup will feature a new eight-team league with each of the teams facing each other once. The top four in the league will qualify for the “final four”. First place will play fourth place, with second place playing third place in the two semi-finals which are slated for BLCA on Wednesday, 8 November and Thursday, 9 November. The final will be at the same venue on Saturday, 11 November, where the winners will be become CG United Super50 Cup Champions and lift the Sir Clive Lloyd Trophy.

The West Indies Academy and Combined Campuses & Colleges (CCC) will again join the traditional six franchises – defending champions Jamaica Scorpions, Barbados Pride, Guyana Harpy Eagles, Leeward Islands Hurricanes, Trinidad & Tobago Red Force and Windward Islands Volcanoes.

Home side Trinidad & Tobago Red Force open this year’s tournament when they take on the CCC at the Queen’s Park Oval on 17 October at 9am. Later on that day the Guyana Harpy Eagles face Windward Islands Volcanoes at BLCA at 1pm in the first televised contest.

Miles Bascombe, CWI’s Director of Cricket said: “This is a crucial stage in our planning as we look to build towards the ICC Men’s Cricket World Cup 2027. We see the upcoming CG United Super50 Cup as the perfect platform to establish and incentivize a West Indies brand of play in the 50-over format, and for the emergence of new talent. The introduction of the round robin format will provide players with more ‘playing time’ in the middle as well as a balanced way of gauging individual and team performances. We are pleased to again have CCC and the West Indies Academy participating at the senior level as they join the other six franchise teams as we look to widen the pool of players.”

Dominic Warne, CWI’s Commercial Director said: “The move to an eight-team league in the CG United Super50 Cup provides fans with an exciting tournament schedule with 31 matches scheduled in 26 days. Every game will be available from first ball to last either live on ESPN Caribbean or streamed live on the Windies Cricket YouTube channel. The new windiescricket.com Live Match Centre will also give fans full match analysis plus live ball-by-ball scoring and commentary for all 31 matches giving the widest access and coverage to the CG United Super50 Cup than ever before. We again welcome and thank our title sponsor and CWI Official insurance partners CG United for their fifth consecutive year of support which provides significant investment in cricket throughout the West Indies.”

REGISTRAR OF TITLES

Cde. Mitchel Slader Gets Star Of Merit Recognition For Workers Union Service

By: Precious Mills

BASSETTERRE, St.Kitts (Thursday 21st September 2023)- Longstanding Executive Member of the St.Kitts and Nevis Trades and Labour Union (a workers representation organisation), Comrade Mitchel Slader is among a field of thirteen (13) recipients honoured with the Companion of the Star of Merit award as part of the Independence 40 anniversary celebrations.

His area of recognition is Trade Unionism/Labour Relations, and he has been awarded in this category-likewise the other recipients- for long and meritorious service, or for loyal and devoted service to the Nation.

The national awardees were spotlighted by Prime Minister Dr. Terrance Drew on the occasion of National Heroes Day-Saturday 16th September 2023.

The other Companion of the Star of Merit awardees are as follows: Daniel Arthurton - Agriculture, Farming, and Small Business Development, Ima Stanley - Nursing, Ian Queeley - Law Enforcement, Carmen Ward - Education, Ingrid Berridge - Education, Prisca Hyligar - Education and Religion. Dr. Osbert Liburd - Agro-Business, Corporate Business and Diplomacy, Cynthia Williams - Education, Avril Noel - Education, Peter Jenkins - Sports and Community Activism, Eldora Samuel - Education and Rubie Taylor - Social Security

Additionally, awarded for outstanding and meritorious service to the Nation, the Medal of Honour has bestowed upon sixteen awardees, namely: Felix Hodge - Law Enforcement, Sydney Matthew - Music and Sports (Table Tennis), Altagracia Nero - Entrepreneurship, Austin Williams - Law Enforcement, Joseph Liburd - Law Enforcement, B Janetta Morgan - Education, M Astona Browne - Public Service, Lenos Douglas - Law Enforcement, Charles 'Ronnie Rascal' Davis - Culture, Music, and the Arts, Margaret Douglas - Education, Lynn Williams - Culinary Arts, Allister Williams - Culture, Alva Bradley - Broadcasting, Donald Freeman - Sports and Community Activism, Patrick Wallace - Law Enforcement and Austin 'Deco' Huggins - Sports.

While speaking about the legacies of the nation's five National Heroes- The Right Excellent Sir Robert Llewellyn Bradshaw, Sir Caleb Azariah Paul Southwell, Sir Joseph Nathaniel France, Sir Simeon Daniel and Sir Kennedy Alphonse Simmonds-the only living national hero, Dr. Drew encouraged all citizens and residents to heroes in their daily lives.

"These heroes' legacies remind us that dedication knows no bounds. They urge us to see failures not as setbacks but as opportunities to grow sustainably, develop maturely, and build resiliency. As they did, we too can transform our lives and our nation," he stated.

Dr. Drew went on to say: "But heroes are not just found in history books; they walk among us every day. They are the educators shaping young minds, the healthcare workers saving lives, the community leaders forging bonds, and the individuals who, through small acts of kindness, make our nation stronger."

"On this National Heroes Day, I challenge each of us to recognize the hero within ourselves. We can all be heroes in our daily lives, not through grand gestures but through simple acts of kindness, and empathy, and being our brothers' and sisters' keepers."
