Unite In Battling Crime and Violence, Not Battle Each Other

When the issue of crime and violence arises in St. Kitts and Nevis, we often find ourselves battling each other instead of the problem at hand. The political blame game dominates discussions, overshadowing the real issue- the malicious agenda of the criminals who disrupt our communities.

The government undeniably has its role to play, but the crux of the challenge lies within our society and the minds of those committing these heinous acts. As a people, our agenda to bring about meaningful change must be driven by unified, collective action.

It is quite disheartening to observe that political figures, influencers and others alike regardless of their party affiliations, continue to tally murder rates under the different administrations. Such reduction of a grave issue to a mere campaign and party politics topic is not only insensitive but also counterproductive. The focus shifts from finding solutions to gaining political leverage, further entrenching divisions within our society.

Are we going to continue fighting each other on social media and elsewhere, or will we change our attitudes and behaviors to bring about the change we desperately need?

St. Kitts and Nevis, our cherished twin-island nation, is a place where peace, unity, and communal harmony should flourish. Yet, we find ourselves grappling with an unsettling rise in crime and violence - a cancer threatening to disrupt the serene atmosphere that defines our homeland. Though this issue is not unique to our shores as many others countries around the world face similar challenges, we must not allow this dark force to take root and plague our society. The time has come for us to unite, setting aside political differences, and take a collective stand against crime and violence.

The effects of crime and violence are far-reaching, impacting every corner of our society. It affects our families, disrupts our communities, and hampers economic growth. Allowing such an environment to persist risks normalizing criminal behavior and fostering a climate of fear. It is imperative that we, as a nation, recognize the gravity of this situation and refuse to accept it as norm.

Blaming each other politically only serves to deepen our divisions and distract from finding effective solutions. Crime does not discriminate based on political affiliations; it touches every life, regardless of party lines. Our leaders must rise above partisanship and come together in a unified front to create and implement comprehensive strategies to combat crime. Transparent governance, accountability, and a commitment to the common good are essential in this endeavor.

Strengthening our law enforcement agencies is a critical first step. Police need the resources, training, and community support to perform their duties effectively. However, law enforcement alone cannot solve this issue. Community policing initiatives can help bridge the gap between officers and residents, fostering trust, cooperation, and mutual respect. Crime prevention must start at the grassroots level, with communities taking proactive measures and engaging in regular dialogue with local authorities.

At its core, the fight against crime and violence is about valuing human life and dignity. Each act of violence, each life lost, is a scar on our nation. Cultivating a culture of peace, respect, and justice is essential. Every citizen has a role to play in this endeavor, from teaching our children the values of respect and empathy to actively participating in community initiatives.

This is a battle we must approach with unwavering resolve. Crime and violence in St. Kitts and Nevis demand a collective, determined response. Let us not be divided by our differences but strengthened by our common purpose-a safer, more peaceful nation for all.

In togetherness, we find strength; in division, we falter. Let us choose to be united and take collective action to defend our homeland.

It is not only our duty but our solemn responsibility to ensure that peace abounds in St. Kitts and Nevis.

Long-Awaited Pension Payments To Government Auxiliary Employees (GAEs) Commences

BASSETTERE, St. Kitts, July 25, 2024 (SKNIS) - A historic milestone was achieved in St. Kitts and Nevis on Thursday, July 25, 2024, as the government, led by Prime Minister, the Honourable Dr. Terrance Drew, commenced pension payments to hundreds of retired Government Auxiliary Employees (GAEs) who had been unjustly denied by the previous administration.

The occasion was marked by a brief ceremony in front of Government Headquarters that was attended by members of the Federal Cabinet, senior government officials, representatives of the Pension Reform Task Force, and retired GAEs.

Commenting on the significance of today's event, Prime Minister Dr. Drew said it was imperative for his government to honour the commitment and dedication of those who have tirelessly served the country without the assurance of a secure future.

securely. They are our drivers, custodians, technicians, and more," he said. "For too long, they have served without the guarantee of a pension, a basic right that was unjustly taken from them."

Dr. Drew explained that in 2021, the formula for calculating gratuity for GAE workers was altered, reducing their gratuity by two-thirds.

Prime Minister Drew said this uncaring act was not just a financial cut, but rather a blow to the dignity and recognition of this important classification of workers.

"Today, we rectify this travesty. We restore the dignity of our GAEs and honour their hard work and dedication to our nation. The St. Kitts-Nevis Labour Party has always stood for supporting and empowering the working class, and today, we reaffirm this commitment," he said. "Our Government Auxiliary Employees, formerly known as non-established workers, now have a streamlined and coordinated framework for their appointment, terms and conditions of employment, discipline, and dismissal. Most importantly, we have established the Government Auxiliary Employees' Commission to extend pension coverage to these employees,

"Our GAEs are the backbone of our public services. They are our traffic wardens, ensuring the safety of our children on their way to school. They are our environmental workers, keeping our streets, drains, and alleyways clean. They are our messengers, delivering vital documents across our nation

PM Drew: CCTV Will Be Built Out Island wide

By: Spokesman Newsroom

BASSETERRE, St.Kitts (Thursday 25th July 2024) - In an address to the nation on Wednesday 24th July 2024, Prime Minister and Minister of National Security Dr.Terrance Drew spoke about expanding CCTV (Closed-circuit televisions) infrastructure island-wide in the near future as part of the government's crime fighting strategies.

"I pledged [in my last address] that there would be expansion of the CCTV infrastructure island-wide and other evidence-gathering capabilities. We continue to build out our CCTV infrastructure, which has been one of the most impactful tools in acquiring evidence used in investigation and charging those accused of crimes. In short order, the entire island will be covered with CCTV."

He touched on the seriousness of gang violence as he recounted the tragic loss of life due to crime within the past months.

"Thus far in 2024, we have lost 19 souls, all our friends, family members, and neighbors to violence," he expressed. "In the past five days alone, we lost three of our citizens to gun violence. On behalf of the government, the people of this federation, and my family, I express our deepest condolences to the loved ones of the victims as you grieve."

The Prime Minister urged the nation to recognize the severity of the issue, stating, "Every homicide is one too many. Remember, every life is precious. We cannot become numb to any violent crime."

He reiterated the administration's commitment to justice for the victims and their families.

"Rest assured that this administration will do everything it can to bring justice for your families."

PM Drew called for a shift in societal response to crime, indicating that there is a growing gang problem that must be addressed.

"Of those 19 persons killed this year, the intelligence I have received suggests that two-thirds of those homicides were as a result of gang violence and reprisals. I want that statistic to sink in. We have a serious gang problem in our society."

He pledged measures to combat this issue, including regular vehicular checks and searches, aimed at dismantling criminal activity. "Let it be known, the National Security Council has agreed to a drastic change in suppression activities," he declared.

Additionally, he reported that work is ongoing in various aspects of national security. He unveiled updates on the administration's commitment to bolster national security budgets, increase police presence, and improve intelligence capabilities.

"When I took office, the annual budget for the Ministry of National Security was $65.6 million. We increased the national security budget to $74.6 million in 2023 and $79.3 million in 2024," he noted.

He highlighted that such funding has facilitated the purchase of additional vehicles, procurement of drones for surveillance, and the establishment of new police and detection units.

Drew also spoke about the government's legislative efforts, such as the implementation of the Firearm Amendment Act in 2024, increasing penalties for those caught with illegal firearms.

"Persons in possession of illegal firearms and ammunition can serve up to 40 years in prison and be fined up to $500,000," he explained.

The National Security Minister called for cooperation from the public in combating crime.

"I therefore appeal to the general public for your patience, understanding, and cooperation as we do what is necessary to arrest the scourge of gangsterism and violent crime," he urged.

Culturama Chairman Applauds Golden Stage Despite Challenges

By: Spokesman Newsroom

BASSETERRE, St.Kitts (Thursday 25th July 2024)- Chairman of the Nevis Culturama Festival Antonio 'Abonaty' Liburd is in high praise of the festival's evolution into a "global platform" despite various challenges over the past five decades.

He expressed such sentiments during the festival's official opening ceremony-for its 50th anniversary- held at the Cultural Village in Nevis on the night of Thursday 25th July 2024.

"From its humble beginnings as a local event, it has become a global platform for showcasing Nevis' vibrant culture," the Chairman stated.

Additionally, he reflected on the numerous events that have been added to the festival's calendar over the years, contributing to its diversity and entertainment value.

"This growth is a testament to the vibrancy and richness of our culture which we are proud to share with the world. Undoubtedly, Culturama has evolved over the past five decades, and now we are on the threshold of celebrating its golden jubilee after five decades of committed and dedicated service to the festival," Liburd shared.

In addressing the various challenges that the festival has faced throughout its history, the festival Chairman highlighted: "Since its inception in 1974, Culturama has withstood the test of time, from financial challenges to waning interest and migration of our best cultural practitioners, to the nationalization of the festival and changes in governments and ministers of culture. Today, it has become one of the most significant events on the federation's calendar."

In expressing gratitude, he acknowledged the collaborative efforts that have made the celebration of this milestone possible. "On behalf of the Nevis Island Administration, the Culturama Secretariat, and the Nevis Culturama Committee, I extend heartfelt gratitude to those who have enabled us to celebrate the festival's golden jubilee," he said.

He also highlighted the role of the members of the Culturama 50 Executive Committee and sponsors, past and present, in crafting this grand celebration.

Liburd thanked the diaspora nationals present, recognizing their invaluable support and participation in honoring Nevis's rich cultural heritage.

"We are also twinning a homecoming with the golden jubilee celebration of Culturama," he expressed

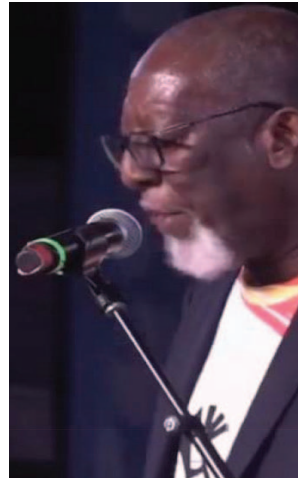

Looking ahead, he invited everyone to fully immerse themselves in the festival's offerings over the next 12 days.

"Get ready to experience our rich cultural heritage and enjoy our local cuisine, arts and crafts, and diverse entertainment."

Words of gratitude were also extended to the framers of the festival, the Nevis Dramatic and Cultural Society (NEDACS), for their foresight in creating this festival. Other key contributors of the festival were also recognised including the first chairman and father of Culturama, the late Calvin 'Cabo' Howell.

'Celebrating Culture, Embracing History, It's Culturama 50' is this year's theme.

Venezuelan Technical Expert: Electoral System is “Fraud Proof”

By: Spokesman Newsroom

CARACAS, Venzeuela (Thursday 25th July 2024)- Ahead of the upcoming presidential election in Venezuela on Sunday 28th July 2024, Member of Parliament of the National Assembly JosÃ© Villarroel of the Partido Socialista Unido de Venezuela (PSUV), who is a IT (Information Technology) technical expert, has declared that the system is “fraud proof”, “democratic” and “totally transparent”.

In a session held on Thursday 26th July 2024, held at the Teatro Principal in Caracas, he told scores of international visitors consisting of observers and accompanying guests (including journalists) for the elections that the system is reliable and secure.

General Secretary of the St.Kitts-Nevis Trades and Labour Union (SKNT&LU) Precious Mills, who is also the editor of this publication, is among the visitors.

As understood, voter identification cards and fingerprints of voters are part of the electoral system also.

“Any person 18 [and over] can participate in the electoral [voting]... no one is forced. It is a right [to vote] not an obligation. This is the main mission that the electoral powers have,” the IT expert stated.

He stated that 99.98% of the time, there are no issues with the voting process.

Villarroel shared that even in the event of a power outage, the machines are equipped with 8-hour batteries to ensure that voting can continue seamlessly once electricity is restored.

He shared that he has been involved in the electoral system process since 2006, noting it is considered “one of the best in the world” and is governed by a set of strict norms.

The registration process is open to citizens as young as 16 years old, two years before they are eligible to vote.

Villarroel highlighted the various measures in place to ensure transparency, including the use of a website for voter registration and information dissemination.

He also emphasized the importance of efforts done in the past through a literacy programme by way of reaching out to rural and indigenous communities to ensure that every eligible voter has the opportunity to participate in the democratic process.

As gathered, the process includes various activities such as candidate registration, technical audits, and post-election audits to maintain the integrity of the electoral process.

The presenter expressed that the system has a high level of accuracy in matching voters with their ballots.

In response to a question about ballot spoilage, Villarroel explained that the voting machines display images of the candidates on the screen and prompt the voter to confirm their selection before casting their ballot. This, he said, helps to ensure that the voter’s intention is accurately recorded. Overall, the official stressed that the electoral system in Venezuela is based on total transparency and national service, in accordance with the country’s Constitution.

During his presentation, he outlined that with these measures

Local Musicians Thrive At Composers Summer Workshop

Basseterre: St. Kitts, Friday, July 26, 2024: The delegation of five nationals who participated in the pilot of the Eastern Caribbean Composes Summer Workshop returned to the Federation enthused and with extensive information on the composition of music in genres such as jazz, fusion, film, and wind and brass.

The workshop, held in Antigua from Monday, July 15, to Saturday, July 20, provided participants with valuable experiences and skills that they are eager to apply in their future musical endeavours.

Sharing thoughts on the workshop, Hanna-Marie Williams expressed, “It was such an amazing experience. I think that I speak for all of us [student participants] when I say we enjoyed it so much. I do think we definitely learned. The tutors were very skilled, and they were very good at teaching. So, I think that all of us definitely walked away with something from it. The process of composing our pieces was quite enjoyable and rewarding and I think that we will continue composing in the future.”

Speaking on the art of music composition in the genre of fusion, Mikkall Walters stated, “Fusion is all about mixing music and poetry to create a piece. At first, we started out playing games so everyone could get to know everyone, and then we started composing our music. When I started, I was just lost! The instructors, Mr. Ruben and Ellen went slowly with us, each day we advanced more. We had to write our poetry as well. My piece was entitled Deepest Secret which spoke about the ocean and how unpredictable it is. I then had to mix my poetry with my music.”

Expressing one thing he would always remember from his participation, Royel Pemberton shared, “Jazz is about improvisation. In life, you have to be flexible. When you are composing jazz, you think of a melody and then you play it, likewise, in life when something happens it will allow you to adapt fluidly so that the impact is minimal on your life.”

in place, voters can have confidence in the validity of the electoral process.

American TV producer Candi Carter named Honorary Ambassador to the island of Nevis

NIA CHARLESTOWN NEVIS (July 25, 2024)- American broadcast executive and television talk show producer Candi Carter will soon add Honorary Ambassador to her accolades when she is officially appointed the title by the government of the island of Nevis.

US television talk show producer Candi Carter to serve as Honorary Ambassador of Diversity to the island of Nevis

Premier of Nevis and Minister of Tourism in the Nevis Island Administration (NIA) the Honourable Mark Brantley made the disclosure at a press conference on Tuesday, July 23.

"I want to announce that Mrs. Candi Carter, a multiple Emmy Award-winning producer from the United States, an African-American woman, she will shortly be named as an ambassador to Nevis with a duty to build awareness amongst people of diversity, including, but not limited at the race, ethnicity, gender, sexual orientation, age, and religion by using her network and influence to increase travel to Nevis."

As Nevis' Diversity Ambassador Mrs. Carter will leverage her network as a prominent personality in the entertainment sector to seek out and share opportunities for the island's tourism officials to meet and interact with influential people of diversity.

"We had for a very long time been seeking to get more of the African-American market to holiday here. When we look at the demographics, this is a multi-billion dollar travel segment each year, but they go to Jamaica, they go to the Turks and Caicos, they go to the Bahamas. Very few of the other Caribbean islands get much business from this important demographic and so we set about doing some new things to make Nevis known within that community. And I want to publicly thank Candi and her husband and the entire team.

"They have been partners working for free because they fell in love with Nevis and they are prepared to partner with us. As a consequence, we have had quite a number of individuals who have come to Nevis directly as a result of their engagement with Mrs. Carter. And so we're pleased to name her to this honorific position as our Diversity Ambassador."

Candi Carter has worked as a producer on popular shows such as The View, The Oprah Winfrey Show, The Tamron Hall Show, Just Keke, and Ice and Coco.

Charles A. Halbert Library Camp Hosts Open Day

Basseterre, St. Kitts, Tuesday, July 23, 2024: The Charles A. Halbert Library Camp hosted an Open Day on Friday, July 19, under the theme 'Creativity is Locked in Our Minds; Let's express it with our hands'. The Open Day featured an array of exhibitions showcasing the campers' achievements, from art and craft projects to several local businesses that collaborated with the camp to provide demonstrations, highlighting the importance of community involvement in youth education.

Ms. Petrine Clarke, Librarian at the Charles A. Halbert Library and Camp Coordinator, expressed

"The purpose of our camp is to educate. For the week thus far, our children visited many industries, one being Agriculture. The children were taught processes of how agriculture is used to enhance businesses. Today, we have an open day. We have on site Wax Memories. Our children participated in making candles. We have on site an agro-processor who showed the children how it is to dry the fruits and how healthy it is to have these. We have also Unlimited Manufacturing who showed tires that we use on cars, and how we can use them to make furniture. These are things we wanted the children to be a part of. We have achieved it. Our children saw how things can be used to enhance businesses."

She further expressed her gratitude to several key stakeholders.

"We express thanks to our parents, our volunteers, and our ministries who assisted in assisting the children with visits. We extend thanks to everyone, and we look forward to a better camp next year," said Ms. Clarke, camp coordinator.

Football engages men positively, says PM Drew as he congratulates St. Peter's FC and Cayon FC

BASSETTERRE, ST. KITTS, July 22, 2024 (MMS-SKN) — Action on Sunday July 21, at the National Bank Group of Companies Technical Centre, St. Peter's, brought an end to the St. Kitts and Nevis Football Association's (SKNFA) Premier League regular season with teams from Constituency Number Eight taking the first two spots.

Member of Parliament for C8, PM the Hon Terrance Drew, addressing members of the C8 Labour Branch, where he pleaded with the participants to go and watch football matches after the meeting. On his left is Executive Branch Chairperson Ms Avonelle Martin.

Among the ten teams taking part, Development Bank of St. Kitts and Nevis St. Peters Football Club finished at the top with 35 points, and was closely followed by Azul Cayon Rockets with 34 points. Among the first to congratulate the two teams was Area Parliamentary Representative, Prime Minister the Hon Terrance Drew.

The significance of the games was underscored when an Executive Branch meeting of Labour Constituency Eight that had earlier been scheduled for 5:00 p.m. on same day at the St. Peter's Anglican Church Hall had its time, through a Facebook post at 4:57 a.m., brought forward to 3:00 p.m.

The meeting was held under the theme 'Keeping Connected', and the reason given for the abrupt change of time came with a special note advising of SKNFA Premier League matches and "all are encouraged to go out and support our community teams at 5:00 p.m."

According to both Prime Minister Drew, and C8 Executive Branch Chairperson Ms Avonelle Martin, three of their community teams were playing. Two of the teams, Development Bank St. Peters FC and SOL IAS Conaree FC were meeting in the first match at 5:00 p.m. and Azul Cayon Rockets FC was playing against SLH St. Paul's United FC in the second match at 7:30 p.m. both at the National Bank Group of Companies Technical Centre, St. Peter's.

The St. Peter's community had every reason to celebrate as their team used their home advantage to the maximum, to beat their sister team from Conaree 4-1. Residents of Cayon had every reason to celebrate as their team thrashed St. Paul's United FC 5-2.

"I take this opportunity to congratulate all the teams that are playing in the SKNFA leagues, whether it is the Premier League or the First Class League," said Prime Minister Drew on Monday July 22. "However, I want to especially congratulate the teams from Constituency Number Eight, namely St. Peter's FC, Cayon Rockets FC and the Conaree FC."

The Honourable Prime Minister noted that the three teams performed very well and he gave tremendous amount of credit to the St. Peter's FC for winning the league, and congratulated all the players, coaches, and the executive leadership.

Others congratulated by the Prime Minister were the club's sponsor, the Development Bank of St. Kitts and Nevis, the whole of St. Peter's Community, their well-wishers, and their friends.

"Let us all wish them well," said an elated Prime Minister and Area Parliamentary Representative. "I also want to say, of course, Cayon has performed tremendously well. They placed second in the league, and again let us also congratulate the Cayon team, the players, the executive, the community, and all those who are involved and of course their sponsor as well."

Prime Minister Drew also congratulated Conaree FC, the third team from his Constituency, affirming that with the spirit they have displayed, they will continue to be in the Premier League. He noted that it is an excellent team that has not gotten into the final four this year, "but we can never, ever, take our eyes off of Conaree - they will be back stronger next year."

The two top teams were all along neck-to-neck from the 18 games each played, as St. Peter's FC won ten, drew five, and lost three to earn 35 points, while Cayon Rockets FC won nine games, drew seven, and lost two to earn 34 points.

In the third position is Old Road United Jets FC with 32 points from eight wins, eight draws, and two loses; and in the fourth position is St. Paul's United FC with 31 points from nine wins, four draws, and five loses.

Other teams in order are Village Superstars FC (30 points), Conaree FC (23 points), Bath United FC out of Nevis (23 points), Newtown United FC (23), Garden Hotspurs FC (16), and Trafalgar South Stars FC who lost in all their 18 outings conceding 74 goals in all.

"I want to congratulate all of them, and to say that this is a men's league predominantly, and to say that men are doing positive things in St. Kitts and Nevis," said Prime Minister Drew, who is also the Federal Minister of National Security. "Let this be a message to all other men to leave negativity behind, to leave violence behind, to leave crime behind, and engage in positive activities such as football."

In conclusion, the Hon Prime Minister said: "I finally say congratulations to all and I look forward to an exciting final four."

Information from the St. Kitts and Nevis Football Association (SKNFA) has it that in the playoffs that are to start on Sunday July 28, St. Peter's FC will face Old Road United Jets FC, while Cayon Rockets FC will face off with St. Paul's United FC. Playoffs will continue on Wednesday July 31, and on Saturday August 3. Best of three finals will be played on August 9 and 13, and if necessary on August 16.

Race to contain 'enormous' oil spill after ship sinks off Philippines

Tanker carrying 1,500 tonnes of oil sinks off Philippines

The Philippines is in a race against time to contain an oil spill after a tanker carrying close to 1.5 million litres (400,000 gallons) of industrial fuel capsized and sank off the country's coast, officials say.

There are fears the "enormous" spill - which is already stretching out over several kilometres - could reach the shore of the capital, Manila, coast guard spokesman Rear Admiral Armando Balilo told reporters.

The ship was one of two which sank in the region on Thursday, with the second going down just off Taiwan's south-western coast.

Both Taiwan and the Philippines are seeing large amounts of rain as Typhoon Gaemi moves through the area, causing widespread flooding.

The typhoon made landfall in mainland China on Thursday evening local time, with authorities declaring the highest tier disaster warning.

It first struck Taiwan on Wednesday evening, killing three as it made its way across the island.

Four counties and cities in Taiwan saw more than a thousand millimetres of rainfall during a 14-hour period ending Thursday afternoon.

The Philippines avoided a direct hit by Gaemi, but the storm intensified seasonal monsoon rains, triggering widespread flooding across large swathes of Metro Manila and its suburbs.

Despite the heavy rains, the MT Terra Nova, which sails under the Philippines' flag, had not broken any regulations around travelling in heavy weather, according to Rear Admiral Balilo.

The tanker was heading for the central Philippine city of Iloilo when it sank, with 17 crew members on board.

One died, but 16 were successfully rescued, officials said. Authorities are investigating whether bad weather was a factor.

The coast guard is now "racing against time" to contain the spill, which could - if all of the oil leaks - become the biggest in the country's history.

High winds and rough seas were hampering their attempts, however.

Even if they managed to avoid a catastrophe of that magnitude, Rear Admiral Balilo said it would "definitely affect the marine environment".

Pando Hicap, chairman of local fishing group Pamalakaya, said the spill was "alarming" because fishermen's livelihoods were "dependent on the waters".

"They don't have any alternative," he told news agency AFP.

Meanwhile, to the north in Taiwan, all nine sailors were initially reported missing after their Tanzania-flagged cargo ship Fu Shun went down.

The Myanmar nationals were forced to abandon the sinking ship, Hsiao Huan-chang, head of the fire agency, told AFP.

"They fell into the sea and were floating there," he said.

The first attempts to reach the crew, who were wearing lifejackets, were hampered by the low visibility and high winds, but by the end of Thursday three had been reported rescued.

Just over 92 percent of new residents in Taiwan report that they have a happy life, with job satisfaction hitting 94.8 percent, according to the results of a survey released July 19 by the Ministry of the Interior.

The MOI reports that 45.6 percent of Taiwan's new residents are between 45 and 64 years old. A total of 60.5 percent of all new residents work in the service industry, with an overall labor force participation rate reaching 75 percent, the MOI said, adding that the average monthly household income among the group has increased by 18.2 percent, up NT$9,576 (US$292) from five years ago.

The MOI further reports that 75.9 percent of new residents have lived in Taiwan for more than 10 years, and the number of new residents who have taken part in literacy courses and other similar care services has increased from 54.2 percent in 2018 to 62.9 percent in the latest survey. Nearly one-third have also participated in social and public welfare activities over the past year, demonstrating their successful integration into Taiwan's society, the ministry said.

During a news conference announcing the results of the survey, which is conducted every five years, MOI Minister Liu Shyh-fang said that the National Health Insurance program enrollment rate, household income and the access to care services are all improving for new residents, indicating that the public and private support measures are paying dividends. The government will continue to formulate comprehensive policies in line with the bill approved by the Executive Yuan last month to promote the rights of new residents, she added.

In addition, the MOI's National Immigration Agency held a multicultural workshop on the same day that encouraged new residents' children to explore opportunities to combine their cultures and social innovation. (YCH-E)

Morocco beat Argentina in game marred by crowd trouble

Michael Emons
BBC Sport journalist

Crowd trouble forced the first football match of the Olympics to be suspended for nearly two hours amid chaotic and worrying scenes, with the game eventually completed in an empty stadium.

Morocco had been 2-0 ahead against Argentina, but Cristian Medina appeared to have equalised in the 16th of what had been 15 scheduled minutes of injury time at the end of the second half.

After the resulting crowd trouble, play finally resumed after a lengthy delay with no fans present, and with VAR having ruled out Argentina's equaliser, Morocco secured a controversial 2-1 victory.

Fans had to leave the stadium after the crowd trouble

Here's how the chaos and confusion unfolded...

- Immediately after Medina looked to have made it 2-2, a number of cups and bottles were then thrown at the celebrating Argentina side before what appeared to be a flare landed near the players and coaching staff.

- A number of fans in Morocco colours also ran on to the pitch, with some being escorted off the pitch by stewards.

- Riot police moved to the side of the pitch and the referee immediately took the players off the pitch.

- The fans inside the stadium in Saint Etienne were told to leave the ground and a message on a big screen said: "Your session has been suspended please make your way to the nearest exit."

- It was unclear whether the match had been classed as finished, but it was then revealed the final three minutes would be played in an empty stadium with no fans present.

- Before the match could be played to a finish, it was announced that Argentina's potential equaliser had actually been ruled out by a video assistant referee decision that showed a player was offside before Medina scored.

Referee Glenn Nyberg gestures after VAR disallowed Argentina's second goal

- The players had gone off the pitch at 16:05 BST, and they then came back to warm up at 17:45 before the match could resume at 18:00.

- Immediately the referee checked to see if the 'equaliser' should stand via a pitchside monitor and, as expected, the 'goal' was disallowed.

- Play resumed just after 18:00 for the last three minutes, and with neither side scoring further, Morocco won the match 2-1.

Both Morocco goals were scored by Soufiane Rahimi, one just before half-time and then a penalty early in the second half as they looked to begin their 2024 gold-medal bid with a win.

Argentina pulled a goal back through Giuliano Simeone, the son of Atletico Madrid manager and former Argentina midfielder Diego Simeone.

But, after all the drama, it was Morocco who took the three points.

Argentina won the men's Olympic football tournament in 2004 and 2008 and ex-Liverpool midfielder Javier Mascherano, who was a part of the winning squad for the second of those successes, is managing the team in 2024.

Mascherano's side will now need to get positive results against Iraq on Saturday and Ukraine on Tuesday to have a chance of finishing in the top two in the group and advancing to the quarter-finals.

Uefa sanctions seven nations for racist chants

In total Uefa identified 17 games as being affected by racist chants

Simon Stone
Chief football news reporter
Published BBC SPORTS

European governing body Uefa has sanctioned seven of the 24 competing countries at Euro 2024 because of racist or discriminatory behaviour by their fans.

The Serbian, Croatian, Romanian, Slovenian, Austrian, Hungarian and Albanian Football Associations have all been sanctioned.

The punishments range from a 50,000 euros

(£41,970) fine and a ban from selling tickets to its next Uefa away match (a Nations League game in Portugal on 5 September) for Croatia, to a 20,000 euros (£16,790) fine and a ban on selling tickets to its next Uefa away match - suspended for two years - for Austria.

In total, 17 games were identified as being affected, including three involving Slovenia, Romania, Croatia and Serbia.

The move comes a day after Uefa charged Spain players Rodri and Alvaro Morata for violating "basic rules of conduct" in the aftermath of their final victory over England when they sang offensive songs about Gibraltar, whose FA lodged a formal complaint.
